Where: Great Room at Navarino Nature Center

Time: 3 pm start

Tickets now available. Cost:

¥ $10.00 per person until Dec. 1

¥ $15.00 per person after Dec. 1

A holiday concert commemorating the turn-of-the-century tradition of carrying Christmas trees to ports on the lower Great Lakes. This was the final cargo of the season during the lumber schooner days, after the last of the logs from the northern forests were hauled south to build the cities of the Midwest. The Rouse Simmons was but one of many ships hauling this cargo, though perhaps the most famous and beloved ship of her day.
